She learned to quilt on Monday; Her stitches all were fine.
She forgot to thaw out dinner, so we went out to dine.
She quilted miniatures on Tuesday; she says they are a must.
They really were quite lovely, but she forgot to dust.
On Wednesday it was a sampler. She says stippling is such fun.
What highlights; what shadows; but the laundry wasn't done.
Her patches were on Thursday - green, yellow, blue and red.
I guess she was engrossed; 'cos she never made the bed.
It was wall hangings on Friday in colours she adores.
It never bothered her at all, the crumbs upon the floors.
I found a maid on Saturday. My week is now complete.
My wife can quilt the hours away; the house will still be neat.
Well, it's already Sunday and I think I'm about to wilt.
I cursed, I raved, I ranted, the maid has learned to quilt!

Go and have a look at our noticeboard and admire our Christmas Tree - look closely at the baubles - you might recognise your work on one of them (these are some of the quilts we have made together)

We will not be meeting in December so thank you all for the knitted and sewn items you have made throughout this year either individually or together - and for which we have received many grateful thanks from the people who have received these donations.

Have an enjoyable Christmas and a peaceful (and productive) New Year
